

Become part of our Success Story!

To strengthen our sales team, we are looking for a:

Technical Sales Support (m/f/d) 80% - 100%

You enjoy a pro-active collaboration with our customers and our internal teams in The Netherlands and the Headquarters in Switzerland. A solution-oriented approach and high sense of responsibility for servicing our customers make you the right candidate for this position.

Your main tasks will include:

- Establish customer-specific quotes/offers with corresponding product configuration from the Statron portfolio incl. active use of different product configurators
- Technical and commercial customer consulting and support (national)
- Recording customer requirements and creating quotes/offers in our ERP-system
- Preparation of comprehensive quotation documentation
- Participation in supplier discussions

Your qualifications are:

- Education in the area of Electricity/Electronics (electrician, assembler control cabinets, electrical fitter, automation technician) in combination with further commercial training (e.g. as a technical salesperson) or many years of experience in technical customer service for electronic systems or components
- Customer-oriented thinking and acting
- Good communication skills and ability to work in a team
- Independent and reliable way of working during all situations (incl. hectic and challenging times)
- Good command of Dutch and English. German is mandatory

We offer:

- An exciting job in a dynamic company operating in a rapidly growing market
- A broad and varied range of tasks with plenty of room for personal initiative
- An attractive and modern workplace with onsite and remote office work

Are you ready to advance your career in an innovative company? Then please send your application and CV in English to Ruben Vogelsang, CEO, ruben.vogelsang@statron.ch, T: +41 (0)62 887 48 72 / M: +41 (0)79 549 90 33.